

“Since the governments are in the pockets of businesses, who's going to control this most powerful institution? Business is more powerful than politics, and it's more powerful than religion. So it's going to have to be the vigilante consumer.”

Dame Anita Roddick (1942 - 2007)

The founder of The Body Shop.

“It's a funny old world.”

Margaret Thatcher

British Prime Minister from 1979 to 1990.

"I can't understand why men make all this fuss about Everest - it's only a mountain"

Junko Tabei

Japanese mountaineer, who became the first female to reach the summit of Mount Everest on May 16, 1975.

"Today's Russia is not to be compared with the Soviet Union of back then."

Angela Merkel

The Chancellor of Germany and according to Forbes Magazine, the most powerful woman in the World.

It is still just unbelievable to us that diarrhoea is one of the leading causes of child deaths in the world.

Melinda Gates

Former unit manager for Microsoft and wife of Bill Gates. 2005 Time Magazine Person of the Year.

“Work is the rent you pay for the room you occupy on earth.”

Queen Elizabeth II

Queen regnant of sixteen independent states and their overseas territories and dependencies.

Human beings the world over need freedom and security that they may be able to realize their full potential.

Aung San Suu Kyi

Nobel Peace laureate, Democratically elected leader of Myanmar, 1990.

“An economy growing at 7 percent per year, can and must find the resources ... to improve the lives of its millions of poor.”

Sonia Gandhi

President of the Indian National Congress and Forbes Magazine's 6th most powerful woman in the World.